ANNOUNCEMENT

December 26, 2012

To: All Hunter Panels personnel
From: Jim Whitton
RE: National Sales Manager –XCI Wall Insulation

I am pleased to announce the promotion of Grant Stahl, to National Sales Manager of Hunter XCI Wall Insulation, effective January 1st, 2013. In this position, Grant will be responsible for all sales and marketing functions as they relate to the Hunter XCI Wall insulation product line. He will also be responsible for the management of Regional Sales personnel, their day to day sales activity and reporting. Grant will oversee the positioning and decision making of territorial sales personnel, work closely with our Marketing Department to promote the benefits of continuous insulation, and work with R&D and the Wall Product Manager in the development and implementation of new and existing wall products.

Grant is currently the Midwest Regional Sales Manager for Hunter XCI Wall products and has an extensive wall insulation background. Before joining Hunter 8 months ago Grant worked for Woolf Distributing Co., Inc. specializing in insulation materials. Prior to that, he worked for the Celotex Corporation selling their wall product line including Thermax and other polyiso products. Grant's vast experience and industry knowledge will continue to be valuable in the success of the Hunter XCI Wall product line. Grant will report directly to me

Grant and his wife Liz reside in Geneva, IL with their two sons, Ben and Max. Grant is an avid golfer and is heavily invested in the youth basketball program where he coaches his sons.

Please join me in congratulating Grant on this exciting and challenging step in his career development!
